

Make Sure You Have the Winning Hand

Play your cards right by using custom card decks for a memorable way to keep your brand, business and message at your clients' fingertips

Custom-designed card decks are a fun and memorable way to present a message with impact. Card decks can be used to make a big impression with your target audience, giving them a handy and useful gift to enjoy for months or even years, keeping your brand, business or message at their fingertips.

Card decks are a creative and highly adaptable marketing and business tool. Vervante signature card deck and note cards offer an efficient, cost-effective, secret weapon for those seeking out marketing and informational product alternatives.

Card decks have evolved well beyond traditional playing cards stamped with a company logo. Entrepreneurs, businesses and community leaders are taking advantage of the possibilities and leveraging customized card decks as:

- Retail products
- Marketing lead generators
- Table-top attention-getters
- Unique gift-bag goodies
- Complimentary bonuses for inspirational or instructional programs or products

These are just a few ideas for using card decks that feature your custom content and design. Vervante card decks are printed on full-color heavy cover weight stock, creating a beautiful and professional product that will compliment your message or intention.

Great card decks deserve equally great presentation. A popular and attractive packaging solution is to use color-coordinated velvet bags, provided by clients to Vervante. The presentation can then be kicked up another notch by adding a small perfect-bound book that compliments the theme.

Playing-card sized themed cards are just the beginning when it comes to using custom card decks. Vervante also offers a larger-sized calendar card pack, delivered in its own clear display case for prominent desktop placement. Greeting cards, thank you notes, any card with custom content that fits your needs, can be created – and all of them will work to keep you and your message memorable.

Email sales@vervante.com if you would like more information about custom cards, card decks and other unique products and services that help businesses make a statement.